

Chateau Lagrezette Cahors, 2005

Review Gary Walsh The Wine Front July 2014

Michel Rolland the consultant here, so likely it gets a bit of a touch up in the winery. Importer: DiscoverVin
Blood plum, coffee grounds, a little smoke, licorice, and flowers.
Woah, that's solid – chunky – thick – with firm tannin, dark chocolate and coffee and plum, bit of spice, good acid – even – whack of tannin on the finish. Needs brontosaurus ribs paired with your best moody look.

Michel Rolland the consultant here, so likely it gets a bit of a touch up in the winery. Importer: DiscoverVin
Blood plum, coffee grounds, a little smoke, licorice, and flowers.
Woah, that's solid – chunky – thick – with firm tannin, dark chocolate and coffee and plum, bit of spice, good acid – even – whack of tannin on the finish. Needs brontosaurus ribs paired with your best moody look.

Like1

Rated : 92 Points
Tasted : Jul14
Alcohol : 14%
Price : $49
Closure : Cork
Drink : 2014 - 2020
Visit winery website